THIS year's Remembrance Sunday will be particularly poignant as the 100th anniversary of the start of the First World War is marked.

Yate and Chipping Sodbury are preparing to honour their war dead with Remembrance Day services taking place across the two towns on Sunday.

Members of the Royal British Legion will be joined by civic leaders in Yate to remember those military personnel and civilians who died in both world wars and other conflicts.

The event will start with a parade from Poole Court and anyone who wants to join in should assemble at 9.15am in time to set off at 9.30am.

Hundreds of people are expected to watch the procession make its way along Poole Court Drive,

Home Orchard and Station Road before turning into Church Road to reach St Mary's Church for the 10am service.

At 11am wreaths will be laid at the church lych gate memorial and at the Parnall grave, which commemorates the 55 people who died when the Parnall aircraft factory was bombed in 1941.

Afterwards, refreshments will be served in the Old School Building (St Mary's Youth Centre).

Chipping Sodbury will pay its respects to those who made the ultimate sacrifice with a service at the town's war memorial at the bottom of Broad Street.

Sodbury Town Council has invited all veterans and serving members of the armed forces to take part in a parade ahead of the 3pm service.

They will congregate at 2.15pm in Rounceval Street and set off at about 2.30pm to walk down to the memorial.

Both High Street and Broad Street will be closed to traffic from 1pm on the day to make way for the parade.

Neighbouring villages will also hold their own services, including Wapley, where residents have been invited to St Peter's Church, Wapley Hill, at 6.30pm.

A commemorative leaflet will be available listing the names of men from Wapley and Codrington who are named on the war memorial.

Meanwhile Holy Trinity church, Wickwar, and Holy Trinity church, Rangeworthy, will both host their services at 10.50am.

Commemorating 100 years this Remembrance Day

Thornbury's Remembrance Day parade will start at 2pm from St Mary's Street car park before heading to St Mary's Church where wreaths will be laid at the foot of the war memorial.

In Almondsbury a series of events to mark the centenary of the start of the First World War will be continued with their Remembrance Day service starting at 10.45 am in St Mary's Church.

The service will be followed by an opportunity for reflection with tributes and remembrance at the war memorial cross in Sundays Hill.

Nearby villages will also be holding their own services and parades. Residents of Tytherington will be joining a parade to the church at 10.45am.

The Wotton and Charfield branch of the Royal British Legion is to cooperate with Wotton Town Council, the churches and the Wotton Silver Band, in their Remembrance Sunday commemoration.

This will conclude the "Poppy fortnight", where volunteers make a house-to-house collection around the town for the welfare of ex-service people and their families.

The parade in Wotton will set off from the Chipping at 10.30am, arriving at St.Mary's Church in time for the two minutes' silence at 11am and a remembrance service.

Following the service, the parade will reform to march to the War Memorial for the laying of wreaths.

The first remembrance event in Dursley is to be held at 10.30am at the War Memorial on Hopton Green in Cam. This parade is organised by the RBL on behalf of Cam Parish Council.

Wreath laying on the memorial will take place just after 11am. The parade then marches past the Memorial for a salute.

The second parade is in Dursley Town Centre. Groups will assemble in the May Lane bus station at 2.30pm and then march down to St James' church. This will be followed by a service in the church which ends at about 4pm. Wreaths are laid on the memorial gates and the parade marches back to May Lane.

The Remembrance event in North Nibley will begin at the war memorial at 10.45am.

St John's Church, Slimbridge will be holding its annual Remembrance Day Service on Sunday, 9th November at 10.00am. During this service there will also be two dedications, one of our new Plaque listing the names of soldiers from Slimbridge who died in the First World War, and secondly of our beautiful new Glazed Screen which was so expertly carved by Slimbridge carpenter, Alan Smith.
